COURTNEY BROWNE

Brand Ambassador, Browne Family Vineyards

Precept Wine is the fastest-growing wine company in one of the country's most exciting wine regions: The Pacific Northwest. Offering the best quality-to-price wines of any producer in America, with critical acclaim to match. Comprised by a combination of owned vineyards, estates and passionate employees, we are uniquely poised as an industry leader and a trusted partner.

Courtney Browne recently returned to Precept Wine as an in-the-market brand ambassador for all things Browne Family Vineyards. She started her career in the wine industry at Precept Wine as a sales coordinator, later rounding out her sales experience outside of Precept Wine from 2011-2014. She married Andrew Browne earlier this year and their shared passion for the wine business- specifically for the Browne brand - made her transition into this role a very natural one. She is also studying to get her CSW, which involves academic-focused wine tasting.
